1. In view of the Brief filed on 3/31/2005, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED as set forth below. To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

2. The amendment filed 6/28/2004 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is the "incorporation by reference" statement added to the first line of the specification. There is no support in the specification as originally filed for said statement in the context of the two applications to which priority is claimed.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 29-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 29-35 are indefinite in the recitation of "enriched" because it is unclear what this term means in the context recited in the claim. It is unclear as to what this term means regarding the degree of purity of the cell population recited in the claim. Said term has no art recognized definition and the term is not defined in the specification.

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 29-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Babbitt et al. (US Patent 5,766,920).

Babbitt et al. teach expanded T helper cells from a patient which are expanded by treating mononuclear cells with antiCD3 antibody and IL-2 containing serum free conditioned media (see column 2 and column 3, third paragraph and column 9, first paragraph and column 13). There is no evidence of record that the particular culture conditions recited in the claims would have any particular effect on the treated cells. Babbitt et al. teach that this method can be used to produce cells from HIV patients (see column 7, third complete paragraph). Babbitt et al. teach that mononuclear cells used to derive the expanded cells can be derived from lymph nodes (see column 2, third complete paragraph). While the term "enriched" is indefinite for the reasons stated above, for the purposes of the instant rejection it will be interpreted as meaning present in a greater concentration than found in situ. Any lymph node cell preparation processed in vitro would be free of cells found in situ other than leukocytes (eg. the in vitro preparation would not contain endothelial cells or other parenchymal cells).

Regarding applicants comments, Babbitt et al. teach expanded T helper cells from a HIV patient which are expanded by treating mononuclear cells with antiCD3 antibody and IL-2 containing serum free conditioned media wherein the mononuclear cells used to derive the expanded cells can be derived from lymph nodes .

7. No claim is allowed.
